"The fiscal year 2014 was an important year for UBIC in terms of technology-development, brand-building, and pipeline-expansion," stated Masahiro Morimoto, UBIC's Chairman and Chief Executive Officer. "We are also excited to embark on a new year of full-fledged growth, capitalizing on our proven technology and strong brand. We are excited to experience continued expansion in our growing eDiscovery solutions business which grew by 38.0% year-over-year to JPY2,144 million (US$20.8 million) due to strong demand in the Korean market. In addition, our forensics services business grew by 27.6% year-over-year to JPY240 million (US$2.3 million). We also saw very impressive growth in our intellectual property ("IP") support business; though still in a nascent stage, we have high expectations for this segment."

"Over the past year, we have greatly enhanced our product offering and strengthened our technical capabilities across the board. In March, we released our Email Auditor, a software application that intelligently monitors email correspondence across an entire organization's email communications infrastructure to identify questionable correspondence and behaviors. In May, we released our Big Data Case Management System (litigation version), which can process up to 200 terabytes ("TB") of data per application. On June 1st, we are also proud to launch our newly developed digital forensic tool, Lit i View® ANALYZER, which is designed specifically to help U.S. investigative and law enforcement agencies. Through the enhancement of our offering, we can better capitalize on the relationships and brand-building we achieved in the US market over the past year, creating a virtuous cycle of business opportunities going forward."

"Having achieved our core objectives for fiscal 2014 such as listing in the US, developing cutting-edge technologies and strategic projects, and enhancing the group's public relations capabilities, we believe we are well-positioned to achieve full-fledged growth in fiscal 2015 both operationally and financially through executing around our key growth strategies. Now that we have developed a robust product offering, we will focus on driving their adaption through accelerating our promotional and marketing initiatives, expanding our overall product portfolio and cultivating relationships with business partners that can help us reach new markets and expand into other areas like healthcare, intellectual property, financial engineering and so on. On the intellectual property front, we hope to develop and implement an artificial-intelligence-powered IP support system to efficiently handle IP related case work and further grow this business segment. To complement our product development capabilities, we will continue to support public relations initiatives to further build our brand and increase sales in key lucrative regions like the U.S., Korea and Taiwan. Lastly, as a truly global company, the group will focus heavily on enhancing its global management systems, by solidifying a top-down management structure that is both flexible and adaptable based on bottom-up regional feedback. By maintaining corporate control of our global operations but tailoring our approach based on the unique characteristics of each market we will be able to better achieve our regional marketing and sales objectives."
